CHAPTER-1 INTRODUCTION

Right to Information is an Act to provide for freedom to every citizen to secure access to Information under the control of public authorities, consistent with Public interest, in order to promote openness, transparency and accountability in administration and in relation to matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. Informed citizenry and transparency of information are vital to the functioning of Democracy. The Act provides for a system of accountability of the Government towards those who are governed and would benefit in increasing transparency and containing corruption. The actual practice of the Act is likely to conflict with other public interests including efficient operations of the Governments, optimum use of limited fiscal resources and the preservation of confidentiality of sensitive information. But the need is to harmonize these conflicting interests while preserving the paramountcy of the democratic ideal.

In an effort to bring about transparency and accountability and to transform the Right of Information Act into an act that empowers the people, the management of Punjab Communications Limited has made an attempt to provide certain information to citizens to empower them to exercise their Right to Information.
